

Privacy Statement

We have the utmost respect for your privacy and confidentiality.

All customers that provide any contact details to us from this site will NOT be passed on or sold to any third parties unless your query was for that purpose in the first place, eg: to recommend an installer for you. We will only use your information to contact you if that is what you requested.

We are here to assist and provide our customers with the best possible windows & doors, service, advice and successful home improvements.

We do not sell or misuse your information.
